Catholics Holds Four Impressive Services With 1700 In Attendance

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF CATHOLIC SANCTUARY
WRITTEN BY PUBLISHER

The new Sacred Heart church $150,000 edifice in Ocean Beach was dedicated Sunday, March 30, the program as announced last week being carried out to the letter, reports Father Edward F. Hannon. Approximately 1700 attended the four impressive services held, he reports.

Building Has Many Features
Possessing numerous outstanding features of construction, material, furnishings and equipment, the new Sacred Heart church edifice is rated as second to none of its kind in Southern California. On tour of inspection of the structure by the writer, escorted by Father Hannon, the following detailed description was obtained:

(Studio of the Cliffs)

Architecture is Romanesque. Main construction material is reinforced concrete, being as near earthquake proof as is humanly possible. Featuring the impressive front of the building is a 65-foot tower capped by a gold tile dome. In the tower is the old bell that was donated to this church in 1916. No longer is a rope re-

Norma Belloff Tells of Weathering Texas Wind Storm on Cross-Country Bicycle Trip

Miss Norma Jean Belloff, who has become something of a national celebrity by her daring cross-country bicycle trip, is still in the vast state of Texas. Below are excerpts from Norma's letters to her mother, Mrs. F. H. Belloff of 2111 Mendocino Dr. They cover the period from March 15 to March 22, during which time Miss Belloff traveled from Orla to Sanderson, Texas.

Dear Mom:

At the Caverns the ranger gave me a notice for a registered letter in Carlsbad. I'm having a hard time eating cheaply and yet properly! Prices in these little places are fantastic! Coming out of Carlsbad I had to wear my bandana for protection from the sun. I left my cap hanging on a nail in the tent house at White's City. I crossed "swell" after swell of creosote bush desert and watched a lovely sunset. I sang to myself and accepted the cools in the sky as a salute to me on my birthday. Then darkness crept over the range 'till it caught and enveloped me. It was black, then grew damp and cold and I ran into an awful windstorm—or it caught up—

PASTOR HANNON WRITES HISTORY, SACRED HEART CHURCH, FOR THE NEWS

(By Rev. Edward Hannon)
Sacred Heart church was established May 10, 1911 by the then Ordinary of the Diocese of Los Angeles, Monterey and Fresno, Most Rev. Thomas Conaty D.D. Father Mesny then pastor of La Jolla and Old Town was directed to care for the new church of Ocean Beach and Roseville.

A small church, 40 feet by 24 feet, was erected on the 70 by 50 foot lot on the corner of Santa Monica and Sunset Cliffs Blvd. then known as De Foe St. After a few months pastorate Fr. Mesny was succeeded by Rev. M. P. Harnett. Sometime after this Father Joseph Hummen attended the parish. Next came Father Henry Brinkmeyer. After one and one-half years Father Brinkmeyer was transferred to become chaplain at Navy hospital and the care of the parish devolved once more upon Father Mesny who was succeeded by Father Thomas Walsh of Liverpool. The latter became the first resident pastor of the parish. Father Walsh resided in a rented house on the corner of Cable and Niagara. Due to ill health Father Walsh retired and the parish was cared for by the Priests of St. Joseph's until the second resident See CHURCH Back Page

Boys Kite Flying Contest at Beach Sunday Attracts

The "Kite" contest sponsored by the Kiwanis club and conducted by the committee for youth activities, was held Sunday afternoon, March 30, on the beach at the foot of Santa Monica Ave. Jack Stevenson was chairman in charge and was assisted by Glen Cords, Tom Plant and Bill Morlin. Although there were many entries, the contest drew a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators.

Willy Westerfield entered a tiny kite, which he carried in his pocket, but due to the strong wind, he was unable to fly it. Another kite which caused a lot of comment, was the seven-foot kite that took a crew of three to handle, entered by Wayne Stoffle. A unique "Persian Model" kite was entered by Linda Lou Oster. Paul Nelson, caused some excitement and thrills, when he flew his tiny nine-inch kite so high that it was practically out of sight. Eight-year-old Douglas Follick, one of the younger boys to enter, really gave the "big" fellows a run for their money when he flew his kite. Other contestants were Varon Wooster, George Paddock, Dickie Prevost and Bruce Whedon. Every contestant won a special prize.

Red Cross Campaign Extended 2 Weeks; 60 Percent Raised

With $236,700 or 60 percent of the $397,160 goal turned in to Red Cross Fund Headquarters at last week's end, Graydon Hoffman, campaign chairman, announced that the drive had been extended to April 14. He said the extension was necessary "to give everyone opportunity to subscribe, and to enable campaign leaders to complete reports in all divisions."

Optimistic that the goal for San Diego city and county will be met, he said the campaign will close with a victory dinner on that date. The final report was originally scheduled for March 31.

Call for Help

Mrs. Runyon of the downtown central headquarters of the Red Cross campaign Wednesday asked The News to broadcast an urgent appeal for workers to carry on the house-to-house canvass. "We have only 10 workers now in the entire Ocean Beach residential area and we need many more," she says. "Those willing to help are asked to phone Mrs. E. Wayne Montgomery of Ocean Beach, the local residential area chairman for the drive, Bayview 5063. Quota for the Point Loma and Ocean Beach areas is $4850 and so far only 50 percent of the total has been raised."

C. of C. to Discuss Local Architectural Control

Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce will specialize on the subject of architectural control of new housing going up in this community at the April general membership meeting, Program Chairman Richard Hilmen announced Thursday.

He has obtained John A. Titlow of Ocean Beach, who led the campaign here a couple of years ago to obtain the present local regulations from the city to lead the discussion. Harry Haelsig, assistant city planning director, will be the main speaker.

The meeting is set for Monday evening, April 7, at 7:30 at the Ocean Beach Woman's clubhouse, with everyone in Ocean Beach interested, both men and women, and whether members of the Chamber or not, cordially invited to attend.

C. C. Action Against Shacks Brought In Here Gets Results

A complaint red tag has been placed on the workshop building recently installed at the corner of Saratoga and Bacon by the City building inspector, The News was informed this week. This tag indicates that the workshop must be removed within 10 days of placing the tag if a building permit has not been issued for the intended dwelling units or, if construction has begun, the "tagged" building must be removed immediately on completion of the construction, John A. Titlow, member of the Chamber of Commerce Special Committee reports. Other members of this committee are Rollin Reed, chairman, and Arnold Morss. The trio was appointed by the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce to investigate attempts being made to bring shacks into the Ocean Beach area, and have been working in conjunction with Harry Haelsig, City assistant planning director.

AZURE VISTANS GIVE $175 TO BURNED OUT HOME

The money contributed by Azure Vistans for Mrs. Anthony Posk, whose house on 719 Cordova was razed recently by fire, is now in the hands of the Red Cross and will soon reach the family, Mrs. W. Hunt, Azure Vista Civic Council member, reports. Girl Scouts collected the money from the residents of Azure Vista.

Lions Entertained By N. Freakley, Former Stage Star

"The Killing of Dan McGrew" by Robert Service and "It Takes a Heap o' Livin'" by Edgar Guest recalled old times to members of the Ocean Beach Lions club when they were entertained with dramatic presentations by Norman Freakley, local retired entertainer. Freakley, a veteran of vaudeville and radio entertainment, presented a varied program of jokes and readings at the Lions meeting of Thursday, March 27.

Introduced by Vice-President Bob Stevenson, program chairman for the evening, Freakley outlined some of his experiences in the stage and radio field. He recalled the early days of radio and related numerous anecdotes of the "Lone Ranger" radio show which he directed and starred in. Other reminiscences and the reading of several favorite poems, combining both humor and pathos, concluded a well-received program.

The attendance contest between rival teams of the Lions resulted in a record attendance at the meeting necessitating the setting of extra places for the dinner, which was held at Glenn's Drive-In.

MRS. LLOYD GREESON AND TWINS HOME FROM THREE WEEK TRIP TO NEW YORK

Mrs. Lloyd Greeson and twin daughters, Grace and Jacqueline, of 4411 Newport Ave. returned Friday, March 28, from a three-week trip to New York City where they stayed at the home of Mrs. Greeson's brother, Henry Charles Forrester. They also visited other relatives and many friends. They went to several shows, among which was "The Easter Play" at the Music Hall in Rockefeller Center and one evening attended a family dinner dance at the Copacabana night club. One of the many restaurants at which they dined was the Icelandic Smorgasbord. Mrs. Greeson reports they saw no snow in New York, as it didn't snow until the day after they left, but they were in time for plenty of it in Chicago, where they spent a day on their way home.

Pointers Baseball Team Takes Title At Pomona Tourney

Point Loma High's baseball club captured the Pomona tournament title Wednesday with an 8-7 win over Whittier High in the finals, Wednesday, April 2. Ralph Silva's three-run double in the seventh climaxed the Pointers' performance in the 12th annual Pomona Invitational tournament.

The Lomans were out-hit 14-9 when Silva, in the seventh, let go with his sizzling double, clearing the full bases and providing the Pointers with their winning margin.

Point Loma, unheralded and hardly expecting to get to the semifinals at the outset of the tournament, crowded out San Diego High in the quarter-finals with a 3-1 win Monday. The Pointers then blasted the San Bernardino team 13-0 in the semi-finals that same afternoon at Pomona.

Joe Medina hurled the Pointer win over Bernardino with able support from Yoto Takishita and Paul Kaneyuki; each collecting three hits. Shortstop Don Blackman paced the Lomans in their title bid, with a .600 swat figure for their tourney tilts.

Azure Vistans Have Hopes of Buying Their Homes Here

The hope that tenants of Azure Vista may buy the lot and the building in which they are now living, is soon to become a reality, says Bill Emerson of the Inter-Project Council for San Diego's federal housing projects, a resident of Azure Vista. Mr. Emerson was in conference with Mayor Harley Knox last Friday and discussed the buying by housing prospect tenants of the property they are now renting.

The Azure Vista property belongs to the government, fee simple, according to John Melville, assistant director for Real Estate and Disposition F. P. H. A., of San Francisco.

"We want to get the city inspector to tell us how we can bring the houses up to the building code, and the federal authorities to tell us how they can be made available for tenant purchase," says Emerson. He stated further that the city and federal government will determine disposition of the property, and the civic council of the project will notify the tenants as soon as any official step is taken.

LOCAL MEETING AUDIENCE ALSO VOTES DOWN MAYOR PLAN FOR BAY 'TENT CITY'

Decisive voting in favor of the Cedar St. site for the proposed San Diego city "mall" of public buildings and against the mayor's proposed "cabin city" on Gleason point in Mission Bay featured the March general membership meeting of the recently reorganized Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce, held Monday evening in the Ocean Beach school auditorium, where citizens of Ocean Beach, Mission Beach and Pacific Beach nearly filled the auditorium.

Persident Steven Young introduced the honored guests which included Mayor Harley Knox, and Councilmen G. C. Cray, Charles Wincote and Vincent Godfrey. Before the evening was over all of these, except Godfrey, spoke

Lieut. Bruce Weston has asked the News to inform local beach party enthusiasts that the police department will tolerate no further destruction of fences for use in beach fires. This sort of vandalism has resulted in considerable loss to private as well as public property, and the police will intensify their campaign to stamp it out. "Anyone found burning any wood that can be identified as fence material will be arrested," warns Lieut. Weston.

Ocean Beach Resident For 43 Years Recalls Pioneer Days In This Area

"BUENA VISTA" WAS 5TH HOUSE ERECTED IN THIS AREA SAYS MISS MOFFETT

(By Marian Kretzler)

The old olive orchard at the top of the hill on Point Loma heights has been turned into building lots, but Miss Dot Moffett of 4651 Niagara Ave. remembers when it belonged to a Mr. Chamberlain. "He gave us all the olives we wanted," says Miss Moffett, "and when mother put them up they were wonderful—especially those huge ripe olives."

After Mr. Chamberlain's death the water pipes were stolen and gradually the trees stopped bearing. But Miss Dot, a resident of Ocean Beach for 43 years thinks back to the days when women wore long, full aprons. Very handy for carrying home driftwood or transporting a neighbor's gift of olives.

5th House in Ocean Beach
"Buena Vista," the fifth house erected in Ocean Beach by Miss Moffett's parents and where she still resides, is a place of memories. The fruit and walnut trees were planted by her mother, the cabinets lining the living room walls are filled with her mother's collections, and the albums Miss Dot treasures are replete with pictures of family and friends who came out to share the Moffett hospitality in the days when Ocean Beach was a very young settlement.

Salt winds have destroyed the walnut trees' upper branches, but limbs prone on the ground are still producing nuts. Not many walnuts, but huge and of fine quality. We know, for Miss Dot cracked some for us.

Now in her seventies, Miss Dot Moffett does all her house and garden work and credits her good health to her physical activity. With all the empty hillside to choose from the senior Moffetts chose a wonderful view site and from the windows and porch of Buena Vista their daughter watches as more homes come to her hill. But she readily recalls the times when her family lived in town but vacationed in a tent near the surf, where mussels and shells abounded and nothing could equal the flavor of freshly caught fish baked in a covering of clay. The clay was brought from near Point Loma Avenue, but they called it "Point Loma Road" in those days.

At first, the Moffett family just came to the beach for vacations. Their tent was pitched near the surf where mussels and shells abounded and nothing could equal the flavor of fish baked in a covering of clay from Sunset Cliffs and Point Loma Ave.

2-Hour Trip from Town
Because of the two-hour trip from San Diego the Moffetts needed a place to store their camping equipment. So "Buena Vista" began as just one room. Additions were added when Ocean Beach became their permanent home. Pictures glimpsed in Miss Dot's album show the family surrounded by large groups of visiting friends. "Mother loved company," her daughter explained simply.

Miss Dot, employed in a San Diego bakery, found it impossible to get home more than once a week. Sunday found her boarding the steamer "Fortuna," landing at Roseville, being met by her mother with the horse-drawn buggy, and arriving home just in time for a short visit before beginning the return trip.

Before the Old Town dike diverted the San Diego river into Mission—or "False"—bay, that river ran past the present Marine Base and roads to the beach were impossible.

Local travel was difficult too. Sand dunes blocked access beachward from Newport to Brighton, so it was necessary to detour around Santa Monica Ave. in driving to the surf.

Start of Water System
Came D. C. Collier who much later built Alligator Lodge as his Coronado avenue home and who first saw the possibilities in local real estate. On Santa Cruz Ave. near Guizot he had his barns and equipment. Also, he had water. When 10 families were willing to pay for the installation pipes were laid from the Collier holdings via Santa Cruz to Bacon St. Thus our local water system began.

A Captain Thomas lived on the site of the bakery at Cable and Newport and conducted a seafood restaurant near the present Silver Spray. We have not yet identified ownership or location of the fourth house existing when the Moffetts moved to Ocean Beach.

Roseville Had Nail Factory
A railway to the beach, a nail factory at Roseville, a projected oil well near the site of the Thursday clubhouse, all these first business efforts were finally abandoned but they marked the coming of enterprise to our home town.

It was wonderful to listen while Miss Dot Moffett remembered. She is a very modern-minded link between the times when Ocean Beach was just a place of sand and sea and dune and our thriving community of today.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Moss of 4742 Orchard Ave. are planning to leave Saturday for a week's visit with their mothers, both of whom live in Fresno. The Mosses will go by train, as their 1947 Chevrolet, which they obtained delivery on this week, is not yet broken in.

A study and discussion class for inquirers under the auspices of the Theosophical Lodge 37 will be held at 4633 Long Branch April 4 at 7:45 p. m., the officers announce. The subjects will be "Reincarnation and Memory," "Spiritual Man Is Eternal" and "There Are No Dead." Otto Von Seeger, president of the lodge, will be the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Perine, parents of Ray Perine of 4612 Lotus St., have returned to their home in Nebraska after a three-month stay with their son here. Mrs. Perine's father, Ed A. Dvorak, and Mrs. Till Dvorak arrived April 3 from Los Angeles. Mrs. Perine's father has been visiting in Los Angeles but makes his home in Casper, Wyo.

Robert Sullivan, seaman second class, recently was transferred from the aircraft carrier Shangri-La to another carrier, the Antietam, which will leave San Francisco soon for a six-month cruise in the Pacific. He was able to be at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sullivan of 4528 Bermuda Ave. for a week before he left on March 24 for San Francisco. His brother, Ronald E. Sullivan, is at home now on a week's vacation from school in Los Angeles.

City Adds Speedy Equipment for Life Saving at Beaches

An 18-foot motor boat traveling up to speeds of 30 miles an hour and two civilian-type jeeps being used at Ocean Beach and Mission Beach are the latest additions to the San Diego Recreation department's lifesaving equipment, announces Don Wynne, aquatic director.

The boat, a 125 horsepower tuna clipper type built by the Kettner Boat Company of San Diego will be used to patrol the now complicated shoreline of Mission Bay. Equipped with rescue apparatus and first aid supplies, the new craft can cover the area by water from Crown Point to the dangerous channel waters of the Mission Bay bridge much more efficiently than a patrol could be made from shore.

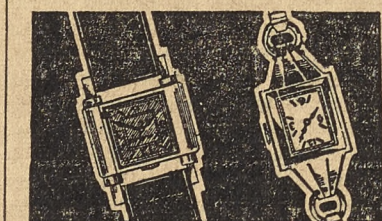

Meanwhile the two new jeeps are proving themselves the most adept type of conveyance along the beaches of the ocean side that has ever been used. Besides eliminating the danger always present before with life guard trucks of being stalled in the sand, the jeeps are especially equipped with apparatus to reel in 500 feet of line during rip-tide or rough surf rescues and to tow lifeboats anywhere on the beach for that type of rescue.

The city hopes eventually to acquire an ocean-going boat to patrol along the beaches and to serve, like the clipper now being used in Mission Bay, to coordinate activities of sailing, swimming and motor boating in accordance with public safety.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adair of Kansas City, Mo. are visiting at the home of the Myron Inskos at 4565 Brighton Ave. Mr. Adair, who is connected with the Goodwill Industries in Kansas City, spoke at the San Diego Goodwill chapel Friday morning.

guard. Anyone swimming in unguarded areas is doing so at his own risk. "We're anticipating one of the largest crowds for this summer. We're here for safety precaution and any information concerning the surf we will be only too glad to give."

In addition to Mr. Penwarden, other lifeguards stationed on the beach are R. A. Grady and Joe Fisher.

The ocean floor of the beach area of Ocean Beach is still full of holes, caused by the rough winter surf, and will remain so until the summer surf begins to roll in; therefore use of every safety device on the beach should be made by bathers who desire to enter the surf, the local life-guards informed the Ocean Beach News this week. Two white flags, visible from any point on the beach or in the surf, have been placed over signs which read
"Swim Between White Flags." Red flags indicate bad surf and riptides.

A reconditioned Cape Cod Dory lifeboat is expected this week-end at the station and will be a great improvement over the present boat, they say. The old 1929 Model A truck also has been replaced by a 1947 Willys jeep. The lifeguards wish to emphasize also that the trash cans are on the beach to be used. They are there to keep the beach clean.
Lastly, all dogs must be on leash
when on the beach, under penalty of fine, announce the guards.

The Weather Bureau reports, for this week-end, "Considerable cloudiness with night and morning fog along the coast through the week-end . . . tempearture near normal."

Third Annual Boys Craft and Hobby Show Announced

Announcement of the third renewal of the annual Craft and Hobby show for boys from the fourth to ninth grades in public and parochial schools throughout the city, was made this week by Leo Shaw, president of the downtown Optimist club, sponsors of the event.

For the first time since the event first got under way three years ago, the 1947 show will be held at Del Mar in connection with the County fair, scheduled for June 27 through July 6.

Shaw stated that arrangements have been made with Fair authorities for transportation to and from the Fair grounds of the boys' exhibits.

A record number of entries are expected for this year's show due to the added incentive of exhibiting their crafts and hobbies before upwards of 100,000 fairgoers, prizes valued at more than $1000, and the fact that supplies used in the construction of many of the models entered are more ample this year. Every boy entered will receive a "T" shirt suitably inscribed.

Robber Steals Bank From Local Home; Hurt in Car Crash

A footprint, slashed screen and open bedroom window were the evidence left by a burglar who robbed Hugh S. Thane, 4717 Green St., of a "quarter calendar" bank containing approximately $30 in his home last Saturday night. All clothes, silverware, and jewelry were left undisturbed. The theft was discovered when Mr. and Mrs. Thane arrived home late Saturday night to find the front bedroom open and the bank gone, reports Mrs.
Thane. A footprint was found impressed in the ground outside just under the window.

The Thanes have made a practice of saving all their quarters to pay life insurance premiums and have been placing the quarters in the calendar bank, which besides receiving the coins, registers the date, she says.

Woman Hurt in Car Crash Here

Mrs. Dolores Jira of 4277 Rosecrans Blvd. suffered serious internal injuries when a collision occurred in Ocean Beach between the 1935 Nash sedan driven by her husband, Robert J. Jira, and a '36 Ford panel driven by Bobby J. Stoval of 3978 1/2 Hawk St.
The accident occurred last Saturday evening at 6:05 on Cable and Del Monte Sts.

Mrs. Jira was taken to Quintard hospital. Mr. Jira suffered minor injuries and Bobby Stoval was unhurt. Police report they cited Stoval for speeding.

Gasoline Thieves Surprised

A trio of gasoline thieves were surprised by residents of the nearby Warren Housing project as the culprits were siphoning gasoline from automobiles and stealing articles from the cars' glove compartments. On being apprehended the thieves ran to their auto and drove to a dead-end on Wolcott St. with James F. Beatty, Alfred S. Shannon and
A. J. Tarantino, all of the 2400 block of Worden St., in pursuit on foot.

The driver of the fleeing car stopped the vehicle, and with his two companions leaped into the deep canyon adjacent to Wolcott
St. and all three escaped.

The "Winsome" circle of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church plan to have a "Bake" sale
Saturday, April 12, at the Masters Food store on Newport Ave., the officers report.

Mrs. Paul H. Campbell and children Joe Warren and Shelia,
Mrs. Wallace Brewer and Mrs.
Ruth K. Brady were guests of Mrs. Brady's mother-in-law and sister-in-law, in Colton, Calif.
on the week-end of March 15. One of the highlights of the trip was the "Orange Show" at San Bernardino on March 15. The party also went on a sight-seeing tour on Sunday, March 16, and drove to the mountains to Crestline near Big Bear Lake and on to San Morritz lodge where they spent several hours relaxing and dining.
They returned to Ocean Beach the same Sunday evening.

STATE COLLEGE NEWS

(By Claire Hollobaugh)

Although most of us have been spending our vacation on the beach or madly working on some project which our profs were kind enough to give us before we left campus, still a few important things have been happening to the Ocean Beach Aztecs, and chief among them is fraternity pledging. Carlton Bingham and Ed
Bennet are pledges to the "Hods."
The Phi Lambda Xis have pledged
Richard Albrecht, Aalan Daun,
Jack Davis, Bill Hamlin, Ed Kos-terman and Jay Timmons. Bob Brazell went Tau Delta Chi.

Wade Peebles of 4749 Brighton, president of the "Hods," was one of the five Aztecs who played golf against the University of Arizona team last Saturday at the San Diego Country club course at Chula Vista.

Muriel Mellon of 4352 Santa Cruz planned to enter the A. A.
U. swimming meet April 3 at the San Diego club.

The Phi Sigma Xi, honorary zoology fraternity on campus, scheduled a two-day field trip
last Saturday and Sunday around the Camp Pendleton area. Walt Marshall and Dan Robinson were two Ocean Beach men who participated.

Seen among the campus crowd who flocked to see Stan Kenton last Friday night at the Pacific Square were Nora Ingram, Mildred Van Gessel, Frank Alverson and their dates.

Maryolive Cobb of 3904 Wildwood Rd. was at the Sigma Lambda Pledge dance given last Friday night in honor of the pledges inducted.

Adele Kissingner of 1915 Capistrano was one of those lucky Aztecs who took advantage of the opportunity to see Larry Adler perform at the Russ Auditorium this past week-end.

Charlene Rocco of 4912 Cape

May is spending her Easter vacation in Los Angeles just having fun.

Nora Ingram of 4658 Adair is also spending her vacation away from the beach. Nora has been in Encinitas this week.

To everyone—a Happy Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McAlister of Bay City, Mich., spent several days here last week with Mrs.
McAlister's sister, Mrs. Suzanna
Thomas of 4971 Narragansett.

The regular monthly square dance given by the Ocean Beach Elementary school Parent-Teachers association will be given on the second Saturday evening of the month in April in order to coincide with the third night of celebration for the dedication of the new recreation building center. The second Saturday evening dance will be on April 12 and the time is 8 p. m.

Kiwanis-Annes Make Convalescent Kids Happy with Gifts

Six members of the Kiwanis-Annes presented gifts to the Children's Convalescent Home and the children's ward of the Vauclain home, last Tuesday, April 1.

Mrs. Martin Murphy, chairman of the hospital committee of the Kiwanis-Annes and her committee, Mrs. John W. Wilhoit and Mrs. I. W. Parks, and three others, Mrs. J. Beardsley, Mrs. Forrest Whedon and Mrs. Glen Cords, were the six who presented the gifts to the homes.

The ladies were first taken on a tour of the "Goodwill" industries under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. M. Inskow. Following the tour, they visited the two hospitals and presented about 50 children with individually wrapped and named gifts, and candy to make their Easter a happier one. Books, scraps of wood, felt, ribbon, yarn, leather and paint were given to the children to work with.

Mrs. Murphy reports that so far the gifts have been collected mostly from the members of the Kiwanis-Annes but anyone interested in giving anything that would be useful and make some child happier is requested to get in touch with Mrs. Murphy or one of her committee.

Here is their own announcement of the sale to the Ocean Beach housewives: "You will be greeting our Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls soon. They will be knocking on your door and win your heart with 'I Am a Camp Fire Girl, Will You Buy Some Donuts.' And we know you will, for it helps them, our Camp Fire office and will build our camp in the mountains a little larger."

Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dumont of Ocean Beach spent several days in the "desert" last week visiting friends in Phoenix and Yuma. Mrs. Dumont reports the weather as warm there, around 85 or 90. According to her report the desert was a beautiful sight, covered with the poinsettia of the desert, the red bloom of the ocotilla. "In contrast to the brilliant red of the ocotilla, the pastel shades of the blue and white lilac, which covered the mountains, and the yellow pansy, along the road, was like Christmas and Easter, represent in all their glory, she says. The cherry and quince trees also were in bloom, along with Easter lilies. In spite of the desert being exceptionally dry, the grass was green on the mountains and everything was truly alive," she reports.

STATEHOOD FOR HAWAII

Congress should act favorably and without delay on the appeal of Hawaii for statehood. That colorful and famous Pacific territory has proved beyond any doubt its right to such a status.

As Hawaii's Governor Stainback pointed out to the House Public Lands committee, the people of the islands have "shown skill and ability in local self-government." He also stressed the fact that for Congress to continue levying taxes and making laws affecting the citizens of Hawaii without giving them a voice in such matters is "contrary to traditional American principles."

Admiral Chester Nimitz has declared that there is no reason, from a military standpoint, why Hawaii should not be made a fullfledged member of these United States. He said that the large number of citizens of Japanese ancestry in Hawaii proved their loyalty to America in the recent war.

Interior Secretary Julius Krug strongly advocates statehood for the islands. In fact, it's hard to find anyone opposed to the idea.

So, Congress had better get busy and add a 49th star to Our Flag.

with me. It blotted out everything. I felt lost forever and fought to even stay on the road in some of the powerful gusts. No town lights and no traffic. I don't believe I have ever been so lonesome! Not even any cattle showed their white faces. I closed out the storm with memories of home. The map showed Angeles along the road somewhere, but as time went by I guessed I had missed it in the dark and was on the long unbroken stretch to Pecos. I put Chariot in a culvert in case it rained, spread my roll among the small round rocks near the edge of the highway. I put the poncho over me to keep off some of the wind—held it down with rocks. The wind blowing on the poncho sounded and felt like cats or puppies romping on me. Some time during the night I slid out from under the poncho and woke chilled and damp. The northerner wasn't blowing hard any more, but I felt like a lump of ice. I got up packed and moaned my way on down the road to this cafe. I believe it's called Oslo. I thawed out and had bacon, eggs and milk.

I hate to leave 'cause it's still cold outside and such a lot of nothing to cross to Pecos, but snow is predicted for the panhandle (upper part of Texas)—heaven forbid, I'd be marooned here.

I guess I'd better beat it for Pecos so goodbye for now.

Mar. 17.

Dear Dad:
This is an Easter present. The purple prickly pear fascinates me and this little guy was just too pretty to leave alone! I thought maybe you'd like to pot him and keep him in the house.
(Editor's note: Norma sent her father a small cactus.)

Mar. 17.

Dear Mom:
"A'hm deep in the heart of Texas." Last night ah heard the coyotes a wallin' along the trail. I left Pecos about 3 p. m. and rode till well after dark, through the nicest part of the night. The range desert scents, mingled with the farm smells (sweet ones) and the warmth of the day, still clung. There wasn't any sounds except Chariot's squeaks.

After all of day had melted westward I had only the telephone poles and the line in the middle of the road to guide me—the darkness was so thick!

Alpine, Texas
Mar. 18.

Dear Mom:

Alpine is in the mountains. This whole area is fresh and moist from the recent rains. The sun is warm and brings out all the intoxicating, earthy smells. Cool zephyrs keep wafting them to me as I peddle on a highway that looks like a trail of bread crumbs. White cumulus clouds decorate the bluest of blue spring skies and I am nearly bursting with love of life.

Mar. 19.
Another glorious experience to my list! I've found that Texas has mountaineers. At lunch time yesterday I was looking for a good place to eat my peanut butter and apple, when a lady called me over to her home by the side of the road. I stayed there the rest of the day, the night and till 9:30 this morning. Their name is Higgins and I'm sure I'll never spend happier moments with a nicer pair. They have two boys, 8 and 10 years, 80 acres of land, an apple orchard, 3 cows, 100 chickens, a pig, several springs and a stream running right across their land. I was given so much love that I had a struggle to leave them.
(Editor's note: See letter from Mrs. Higgins below.)

Marathon, Texas
Mar. 21.

The country I'm going through now might just as well be out in back of San Diego. It must be spring 'cause the lambs are gamboling beside their mothers on all the passing hillsides. Penny-size, gold and purple flowers are unbudding along the road—and there's young green shoots nosing up midst the dry grass. I slept in a culvert. I'm often

Since I left Fort Davis the wind has been against me. It's hard to make any headway and my legs get so tired.

I carry groceries with me on these long stretches. Went through Texas fog all morning—wet and cold.

Letter from Mrs. Higgins

Below is the letter received by Mrs. Belloff from Mrs. F. Higgins of Fort Davis, Texas, to whom Norma refers in her letter of March 19 above:

Fort Davis, Texas
March 21, 1947

Dear Mrs. Belloff:
I'm so glad to write you that your young daughter, Norma, spent last night with us. She is a very brave young lady, but don't worry—she'll make it alright. I was like her when I was a girl. I didn't have a bicycle, but I earned my way out here from Kentucky 20 years ago by painting pictures, scarves, etc.

She's alright—just a little tan. She had lunch with us yesterday and dinner last night. She slept in our living room on the day bed, and had breakfast with us this morning. I did not ask her to help me but she insisted and I certainly did appreciate it because I don't have a maid now.

Wish we could have kept her longer—would like to have her for a daughter. Wishing her and you the best of good luck.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Higgins.

sing during the tour, and a demonstration of the square dance will be directed by Mrs. E. F. Olson, president of the P. T. A.

Schools to Tour Building
Arrangements have been made for the three public schools of this area to tour the building on Friday, April 11. In the forenoon, the pupils of the local Elementary school, in shifts, will be shown through the structure, and on Friday evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock a similar opportunity will be given the students of Dana Junior high school and Point Loma high school. Principals L. L. Bloomenshine and C. L. Swenson will be assisted for this event by Mrs. L. W. Putney and Mrs. L. R. Jefferson.

First big social event in the new center will be a square dance to be held Saturday evening, April 2, open to the entire community.

History of the Project Given
This community project dates back to Nov. 1943 when serious talk of an Ocean Beach building for youth activities was heard at a meeting of Ocean Beach youth leaders and city youth workers held at the home of Mrs. Muchmore. Several weeks later a second meeting was called, attended by representatives of more Ocean Beach groups, at which a Community-Civic committee was formed with Rev. James Roberts as chairman and Mrs. Muchmore as vice chairman.

A six weeks intensive financial campaign featured by a house-to-house campaign by dozens of local workers, with more than $7,000 cash raised, was launched at a mass meeting held at the Elementary school here Aug. 1, 1944.

Sept. 19, 1944, the fund raised here was turned over to the city. Final plans for the center were made June 12, 1945 and bids for the construction were opened on Aug. 10, 1945. On March 10, 1946, a ground breaking ceremony was held and construction was under way the next day, with F. E. Young as the contractor. Young turned the building over to the city March 7 last.

Appeal for Banners, Plants and Flowers

The Executive committee Tuesday asked The News to publish an appeal to the various patriotic groups of Ocean Beach to provide their banners for use at the dedication. An appeal also is made for potted ferns and for flowers with which to dedicate the building for the opening. They can be brought to the center early the evening of the dedication, April 10.

WARREN-WALKER SCHOOL PUPILS ENJOY EASTER VACATION VARIOUS WAYS

The Easter holiday is giving some Warren-Walker School students an opportunity to enjoy with their parents a vacation away from San Diego. Bob and Dick Turnbow are spending the week's holiday fishing at Warner Hot Springs. Elizabeth Dale is visiting in San Francisco. Los Angeles has attracted Michael Kotur and John Musselman. Kenneth Elliott is camping in the Sierras. Toni Roenicke told of plans to spend part of his vacation in Mexico.

Pupils staying in San Diego during their vacation also have interesting plans. A traditional Easter egg hunt is being arranged by Sandy Young and Jean Hunt. Niko Sakellarios has invited friends to enjoy with him the art of coloring Easter eggs.

Social Studies to Be Theme of P. T. A. April 8th Meeting

Social studies will be the theme for the program of the Ocean Beach Parent Teacher association at its April meeting to be held Tuesday, April 8 at 1:30 p. m. at the Ocean Beach Elementary school. A demonstration by the pupils under the direction of Mrs. Kathryn Porter and Miss Olive Wilkowsky will be a feature. Their subject will be, "Mexico and Pueblo Indians."

A panel discussion on "Developing Understanding in Children Through Social Studies" will be held. Members of the panel will include Mrs. Martha McIntosh, former principal of Ocean Beach Elementary school and now director of "Instruction for the city schools," Miss Leta Lipp, third and fourth grade teacher, and Miss Vesta Petersen, principal of Ocean Beach school.

Mrs. Ralph Follick, publicity chairman, says everyone is welcome to attend the meeting and spend a pleasant afternoon. Mothers with pre-school children can leave their children in the carefully supervised nursery.

Miss Virginia Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sugg of Los Angeles, is a house guest this week at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith of 4869 Santa Monica Ave.

industries that will bring pay-rolls to this city."

Mayor Main Speaker

Mayor Knox, as the main speaker, declared that "no one has ever suggested that the city library of the schools administration building be placed in the park, that we do not propose to close any streets near the Cedar St. site and that selfish interests who seek to acquire Date St. property, bent on speculative steal are behind the opposition to the Cedar St. site since Date St. is to become the front door to San Diego's main business district by reason of the proposed arterial highway on that street to connect Pacific highway and the 11th St. Freeway.

As for 22 blocks, the mayor stated that the only plan at present is for one block to be bought by the city for the library, another block to be bought by the school district for the school administration building and a third block to be bought by the state for a state building."

Cabin City Declared "Dead"
On the tourist "cabin city" proposed for Mission Bay, Cray declared that he was against it and the mayor, after outlining the reasons why he had proposed this facility for tourists, admitted that too much opposition has developed and so many "stumbling blocks" have bobbed up that the proposition could now be considered dead.

Several Mission Beach citizens spoke strongly against placing the proposed structures on Gleason point. In fact, the motion that carried voiced opposition to "any tourist housing development within the recreation area of Mission Bay."

Another motion carried at the meeting provided that the Mission Bay Chamber of Commerce be given due notice in advance of all important new propositions that affect the Bay area.

A fourth and final motion carried recommends to the city the appointment of Carl Schroeder of Ocean Beach and Ted Brooks of Pacific Beach to the city park and recreation commission.

Orchard and Sunset Cliffs Blvd. have been submitted to the Chamber of Commerce committee, and the owner of the structures as well as the building contractor have agreed to altar and remodel the buildings so as to conform with others in that neighborhood. The public is at liberty to inspect these plans and to see that they are in order, reports Titlow.

An architectural Control ordinance is now in effect through the area from Chatsworth Blvd. to the ocean," says Titlow. "Any building brought into Ocean Beach must conform to other buildings in its immediate area," he added.

BUD AND NELL KIDWELL PLAN TO OPEN MALT SHOP ON VOLTAIRE SATURDAY

The Kidwell "Malt Shop" plans to open at noon Saturday (tomorrow) April 5, at 4755 Voltaire St. "Bud and Nell" Kidwell, owners, are well known around Ocean Beach, having lived here the past 22 years.

The shop has been under construction since the last of January. "Bud" was the main contractor on the job, with H. Paunt as the brick contractor. The specialty of the shop will naturally be the "malt," along with other famous ice cream dainties, says Mrs. Kidwell. Sandwiches of all sorts will be served.

CITY CAMPAIGN HAS ONE WOMAN, MRS. HENDERSON, RUNNING FOR THE COUNCIL

The present campaign for city officials has one woman, Mrs. Estelle M. Henderson, running for the council, being a candidate in the sixth district, opposing Councilman Vincent Godfrey. She reports she is taking an active part in the campaign in opposition to the Cedar St. site for the "Mall" and in favor of the Balboa Park site for the public buildings planned. In appealing particularly to the women voters of the city she says:

"Ladies, we have taxation without representation. We need equal rights on the City Council, Board of Supervisors, Planning Commission and Grand Jury. I am making this City Council race for women in the future, and not for myself. I have spent $700 of my own money to make my nomination possible for you.

"It is now up to you women, for us to succeed. Women have proven their ability during the last war, and are entitled to equal rights with men in all things."

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kerr and son David plan to spend a week in Ocean Beach with Mrs. Kerr's father, Dr. F. P. Dennis. The Kerrs live in downtown San Diego.

Mrs. Dorothy Kley of the Grace Apartments at 5076 Niagara Ave. left on Monday to spend a week in Las Vegas, Nev. visiting with friends. She plans to return to Ocean Beach on Sunday, April 6.

Mrs. A. Underwood and Mrs. G. Sharp of Los Angeles, sisters of Mrs. Bill Morlin of the Morlin's Tot Shop, spent last week-end with her.

Mrs. S. J. Falson of 4711 Cape May has received a telegram stating that her sister, Mrs. John L. Wells of Portland, Ore., passed away on April 2. Mrs. Falson will be unable to attend funeral due to her recent illness.

quired to ring it, however, since an electric motor and push button provide the power. Facades of cast stone also are used in front. In a recessed nook near the top front center is a statue of Sacred Heart in Benedictus, below which is a heavy oblong stained glass window depicting the Immaculate heart of Mary. Roof of the building is topped with tile.

Entering the huge front doors, to the left of the lobby is the pastor's office, to the right the stairway leading to the choir balcony, and another stairway leading to the gas heating plant and air-conditioning apparatus in the basement.

Pews for 400

Entering the main auditorium the visitor finds 58 pews seating a total 400 worshippers, and with floor of two-tone composition tile. Above the lobby is the choir loft seating 40 singers. Besides the wide center aisle each side of the auditorium has a unique colonnade aisle arched overhead and with built-in lights in each pillar.

Midway front in the auditorium there are located one confessional room on each side, one for Father Hannon on the north the other for his assistant, Father Bradley, on the south.

Ranged high along the side walls of the auditorium are 14 stations of the cross depicting scenes from the "Passion of Our Lord," each being painted on copper. High also on the side walls are the 12 stained glass windows that treat of the 12 "Promises of the Sacred Heart" of a style which Father Hannon states have never been used in a church before. The high arched ceiling overhead is featured by huge beams of Oregon pine weighing 1850 pounds each. Four other heavy stained glass windows also are features.

Liturgical Altar Outstanding

Climaxing the splendor of the interior is the auditorium front with its Italian marble Liturgical altar and tabernacle centerpiece of solid bronze flanked on either side by a huge altar candle of onyx and marble. One to the right and one to the left of the main altar are smaller altars. Steps to the main altar are of marble and the floor of terrazzo. Topping the main altar is a canopy of Filipino mahogany draped against the end wall with cardinal red silk tapestry. Also of mahogany are the pulpit, the pews, chairs and kneelers as well as the doors.

To the right of the main altar has been placed the Margaret Mary Chapel seating 28 and with a side entrance and ramp for the worshippers who need this special facility. The baptistry nearby will be of cut stone and covered with mahogany.

To the left of the main altar are the church equipment rooms, the priest's sacristy room containing numerous cabinets and drawers for vestments, also a public address system apparatus. A second sacristy room adjoining contains vestment cabinets for the altar boys and operating room for those caring for the vestments and other apparel and altar equipment.

Acoustics and lighting throughout the building are of the best, the latter being of the indirect classification.

Dr. W. B. Oster and Dr. Rowland Harris of the Sand-Oster Clinic plan to attend the convention of the American College of Surgeons to be held at San Francisco April 7 and 8. They expect to make the trip by train.

pastor came, Feb. 6, 1921, by name Father Declan Foley, who hailed from Toronto, Canada.

Many improvements were made by Father Foley whose administration lasted four years and eight months. Father Foley lived at the Craggs Apt. on Del Mar Ave. It was during his pastorate that lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, in block 30 were bought so that the little church could be moved to its present location.

In a short time preparations were made and the little church was moved to its present site. The first Mass in the newly located church was celebrated June 1, 1924.

On Nov. 4, 1925, Father Foley was succeeded by Fr. Ruhr who was followed by Father P. Santy. He took up his residence in a little house directly back of the church on Saratoga and began to make plans for the erection of the present rectory. Formal possession of the Rectory was taken Nov. 1, 1927. After some years Fr. Santy was succeeded in turn by Father Connolly, who in 1939 was succeeded by Father E. Hannon the present pastor.

benefits of this event would make a tremendous list and that had Christ not risen Christianity would have become extinct right then instead of continuing through the 19 centuries as an impelling force in the affairs of mankind.

Though none of us on earth can tell what heaven is like he said he liked best the belief that "it is good enough for us to believe that heaven is a place where we will know each other and where we will have work to do. Our happiness there will be dependent on the kindergarten course of living we have gone through here."

He was introduced by Col. R. W. Shaw, program chairman for the evening.

At the business session, Lou Fleetwood of Fleetwood's Pet and Garden Supply was inducted as a new club member. Past President Frank McEwee officiated as installing officer.
